Today is my 14th Anniversary. No worries - we spent 2 weeks ago in lovely Puerto Rico with the kids. Thankfully the wife doesn't care about the Commercialization of it as like some people.

Still struggling to finish this New ADP for a work project. Can't seem to get the Beach out of my head. Hard to focus on the ones + zeros right now.

Listening to a Podcast about Jim Jones and Jonestown. Crazy, but we have witnessed how easy it is for people to join cults in mass the last 3 years. No matter how many times I listen or read about this cult - it is amazing each time.

Going to the Flyers game this evening. Should be a good time with the kids & the Oldest's Swim Team —
